Rejuvenate, Regenerate Your Skin at the Cellular Level

Your skin is a mirror of your internal well being. Fresh, glowing skin reflects real health. Conversely, drab, dry, wrinkled and blemished skin may be a sign that your health can be improved.

IMPORTANT SAFETY INFORMATION

Don't Let These Chemicals Get Under Your Skin!

Our skin absorbs up to 60% of certain ingredients in lotions, creams and bubble bath! According to a study at Mount Sinai School of Medicine in New York, these absorbed chemicals flow into our bloodstreams, then accumulate in target organs or are metabolized through our systems. One toxic family of chemicals known as phthalates have been detected in lipstick, nail polish and perfume, in spite of links to serious health problems such as liver and kidney failure.

Pure Products are the Only Choice

These findings make it clear that we should opt for those products with pure, non-synthetic ingredients. Choose Young Living products with NO chemicals, artificial dyes or harmful ingredients. In fact, they're so pure, you can eat them!

(CBS News, April 22, 2003)

"After hiking in the mountains of Nepal and baking on a beach in Thailand in 1988, I had the best tan of my life. Not only did I have a great tan - my skin had aged 5 years in 5 weeks. I was shocked. (Please understand that in Minnesota, where summer are short and winters are long, getting tan has been a perennial obsession for those with light skin. Being of Norwegian and Scottish ancestry, I REALLY qualify.)

When I thought about the long-term implications of all that sun damage, I felt sick. Had I laid the groundwork for skin cancer? That's when I got serious about rebuilding and protecting my skin. My first step was to avoid further damage by using sunscreen every single day (fifteen years later, I still apply sunscreen every morning). Next, I tried several reputable skin care lines - with no results. None of the products made a genuine difference in my skin.

New Possibilities Emerged

Then a friend introduced me to therapeutic-grade essential oils and lent me a book by leading British aromatherapist, Valerie Worwood. In her book, The Complete Book of Essential Oils & Aromatherapy, I found a statement that gave me real hope for rescuing my skin:

"Cellular regeneration is the key to a youthful skin, and essential oils provide a way of doing this... The nutrients and proteins in essential oils help to maintain the mattress-like bounciness of collagen, upon which the outer layers of skin rest, and encourage the regeneration of new cells. The circulation-stimulating properties of the oils oxygenate the blood which in turn energizes the cells, allowing regeneration to take place."<sup>1</sup>

Essential Oils Saved My Skin

Following Worwood's recommendations for "maturing skin", I nourished my skin with ROSE, SANDALWOOD and GERANIUM essential oils. When I saw genuine improvement in the texture, moisture level and smoothness of my skin, I was convinced that essential oils really DO work. Years later, my 47 year-old face is supple, smooth, with little evidence of sun damage. I am grateful for the restoration I experienced and for essential oils - my "weapon" against photo aging."
